

"Spaces for People"

A "Spaces for People" is a 20mph trial in 80 towns and villages in the Borders, which was approved by Scottish Borders Council on the 27th August.

The project is being managed by Sustrans Scotland and funded by the Scottish Government. Click on the following links for more information.

Scottish Government Information from Transport Scotland

Information about the project from Scottish Borders Council

List of areas in scope for the reduced speed limit trial

Information from Sustrans Scotland

Local press article in Borders Telegraph

Foulden is listed as one of these areas for the trial. Please note it is a trial for 12 months only, and will then be followed by a review to decide if any of these measures become permanent. We don't have the full details yet but will keep you posted as the Community Council receives more information. It is envisaged that the work carried out to install new road signs will commence between October and December 2020 but this may be subject to change.